FUNERAL OF THE DEAD OFFICER.

Police Locate the Room of the Daring Burglars.

Two very important discoveries have been made in connection with the tragedy which resulted in the death of Police Officer James H. Smith and one of the porch climbers. One of these is the positive identification of the desperado by his mother and sister as Frank J. Goldstein, and the other is the location of the headquarters of the dead bandit and his associate, who is now at large at the home of Mrs. W. E. Steadman, 1362 Grove street, in this city.

MOTHER ARRIVED.

The identification was made yesterday by Mrs. K. Greiner of 1362 East 18th street, Los Angeles, and her daughter, Miss Annie Goldstein, both of whom arrived here yesterday from their home in Los Angeles. They came in response to telegrams sent by Chief of Police Hodgkins informing them of the tragedy and telling them that he believed the dead bandit was the son of one and the brother of the other.

The officers retired temporarily from the scene and left the bereaved mother and sister alone for a time with the dead. When Mrs. Greiner emerged from the room she left instructions with the officers at the morgue that she did not wish the public admitted to gaze upon the features of her unfortunate son.

The woman left the place with the police, the mother announcing that she would make arrangements for the fun-

SAN FRANCISCO, November 30.—The police are satisfied that neither Frank Goldstein, the robber who was shot in a death struggle with Policeman Smith in Oakland Friday night, nor his partner, Joseph Kiniry, who escaped, have ever had any trouble in this city.

Captain Martin issued orders this morning to all his men, commanding them to be on the lookout for Kiniry. The police believe that the escaped murderer has gone East.

SUPERVISORS WILL TEST BALLOT MACHINES.

Decide to Hold a Mock Election in Their Rooms Next Wednesday.

The Board of Supervisors have deferred the examination of the rival balloting machines known respectively as the Standard and the Columbia, which was to have taken place this morning, until next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, to which time the Board of Supervisors adjourned.

The course was adopted at a meeting of the board of executive session this morning, at which all the members were present.

The Board retired behind closed doors at 10:45 o'clock and remained in session for about three-quarters of an hour.

While they were in retirement, there was considerable interest displayed in the main board room in the outcome of the conference by a number of citizens and representatives of the two machines which had been offered for the examination.

The Standard was represented by Frank C. Jordan, clerk of the Supreme Court of this State, who is the agent in that contrivance; Joseph Lanckries, J. Cal Ewing and Frank Kalper, the last mentioned a mechanical engineer and at one time, who had been brought here especially from the East, to attend the test.

The Columbia was represented by State Senator Leavitt and Mechanical Engineer Christiansen, the inventor of the machine.

When the board went into executive session, the members took with them a resolution prepared by Frank C. Jordan, setting forth the advisability of the selection by the board of a perfect voting machine and setting aside time for a careful and exhaustive test of the Standard.

The subject was then dismissed.

"There will be representatives of each machine present, and each of these representatives will be at liberty to say what wants to about his own machine and to show, if he wants to, the faults and the defects of the other.

"This is what we consider the best way of finding out what we want to know about these machines."

The subject was then dismissed.

PAY OF 20,000 WORKERS REDUCED

BOSTON, November 30.—The wages of about twenty thousand cotton textile operators were reduced to-day. To-day's addition brings the total number in New England whose pay has been cut this fall to about $4,000, and the cut that takes effect in New Bedford next Monday will swell this number to about 75,000 and complete a general reduction in Southern New England cotton mills. The cut averages ten per cent.

The report received to-day indicate that the reductions were received without any serious protest.

To-day practically every cotton mill in Rhode Island, where there are about 2,000,000 spindles, adopted the scale. In that state nearly 20,000 operatives are affected, and the order of things will mean a loss of fully $20,000 weekly in wages. The cut also became operative in mills in Massachusetts and Connecticut controlled by Rhode Island capitalists and employing about 7,000 additional hands.

The report received to-day indicate that the reductions were received without any serious protest.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC IS BURNED.

NEW YORK, November 30.—The historic Academy of Music, the largest theatre in Brooklyn, was destroyed to-day by a fire that is said to have been caused by an explosion. For a time the flames threatened adjoining property as when the roof fell in part of a saloon building adjoining, but fortunately no one was hurt, though a saloon was destroyed. The loss is estimated at $300,000, fully covered by insurance.

The fire started in the gallery of the theatre, where a number of men were preparing for the testimonial dinner of Senator McCarran to be given there to-night. The fire department made rapid headway, and it was fully extinguished minutes before they had a stream of water on the building. It was then discovered that the water could be carried scarcely half way up to the roof and an hour after the discovery of the fire the entire building was a roaring furnace and the firemen were bending all their efforts to saving the surrounding property.

The academy, which was an antiquated building constructed in 1880 of brick, sandstone and wood, operated by the Academy of Music, was located in the heart of the financial district. Opposite or Montague street, is the Brooklyn Public Library, with over 150,000 volumes. The fire was blowing in that direction and great fears were expressed for its safety.

The "Way Down East" company occupied the theatre all last week, but their scenes and effects were taken out Saturday night.

The building was owned by a stock company.

MOVE FUNDS FOR COUNTESS.

COUNT KWILECKI ADMITS IN COURT THAT HE LIVED HIGH.

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—Financiers have agreed to advance funds to Countess Isabella Wiesierski Kwilecki, who was acquitted on the charge of presenting a false heir to the estate of Wroblewski.

Court Hector Kwilecki, a member of the Reichstag, who, with his father, Count Miejskiew Kwilecki, contested as next of kin, the legitimacy of the Countess' son, not only consented, but even personally guaranteed the loan, giving his as partial reparation for his share in the recent prosecution of the Countess.

Court Kwilecki admitted in court that he lived beyond his means, being a man of pleasure and a man became possible, because of the birth of an heir, but it was blocked for several years by members of the Prussian House of Lords.

"My son first became acquainted with him when we were living at 204 Turk street, San Francisco. That was almost three years ago. There was nothing in the conduct of either to lead me to believe that all was not right, and I am unable to account for this affair."

MORTGAGES PROPERTY.

A mortgage for $20,000 has been placed on a piece of property at Thirteenth and Washington streets this afternoon by James Leon Des Frerery to the Oakland Bank of Savings.

ARE IN SECRET CONVENTION.

LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN WANT MORE PAY AND SHORTER HOURS.

PHILADELPHIA, November 30.—A secret convention of officers of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen of the lines of the Pennsylvania is in session here. The firemen have asked for the same pay under the new schedule of nine hours as they received when they worked ten hours. Conferences with officers of the railroad have failed to produce any result and it is thought the firemen have called the delegates together to determine the course to be pursued.

READING COMPANY'S MILLS RESUME.

READING, Pa., Nov. 30.—After an absence of several weeks, the Clay street and Ninth street mill of the Reading Iron Company resumed work, twelve employees having been hired. The Carpenter Steel Works, with the exception of the construction department, opened up today. It is estimated this company will continue in active operations, notwithstanding the fact that it has been in the hands of a receiver.

ANNA ROSS WHO WAS PLACED ON TRIAL TODAY ON A CHARGE OF MURDER.

The trial of Anna Ross, charged with the murder of Elizabeth Loring, the naked colored woman for whose murder Victor Walkers, the consort of the Ross woman, is now serving a life sentence in San Quentin, began this morning before Judge Edwards.

Elizabeth Loring was murdered in her home at Golden Gate on May 5, 1902, and her body hidden in a hole dug in the cellar under the house. Walkers and Anna Ross were both in bed with the woman at the time and, according to the police officer, she informed the police officer where the body was buried.

Her defense is being conducted by Attorney W. S. Rotenier, while District Attorney Allen and Deputy Welsh are prosecuting the case for the people.

ROBBERY. The origin of the phenomenon cannot be explained. The inhabitants of the place, numbering about 10,000, are afraid to leave their houses. A committee is engaged in investigating the matter. A man has been destroyed six times by earthquakes.

CLEVELAND WILL FORECLOSE MORTGAGE

FRANKLIN, Pa., November 30.—Former President Grover Cleveland is about to foreclose a mortgage upon the narrow gauge Bradford, Berlin and Kinzua Railroad, of which he is a executive bondholder.

It is said that the road paid large dividends and when it was built its promoters induced Mr. Cleveland to take the entire bond issue. Mr. Cleveland still has the bonds in his ownership. It is said, one him so much interest that he is going to sell the equipment at Bradford on December 1.

COLLEGE BURNED.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., Nov. 30.—The main building of the Jewell Linnethian College of Jewish Ministry was destroyed by fire today. Several students had narrow escapes and one is missing. Loss $25,000.

MAYOR EXPLAINS PROPOSED TAX ON SLOT MACHINES.

OAKLAND, Calif., November 30, 1903.—EDITOR TRIBUNE.—Some of the newspapers so report my action in regard to no further thought or attention.

It seemed to me then, and seems so now, that the matter of taxation is peculiarly the province of the Council and the Mayor should not do more than he has done in the present instance.

I have had serious doubt of the ability to enforce section 226 of the Penal Code against a slot machine (they have been invented since the code was adopted) and therefore it is my opinion that either an ordinance should be passed prohibiting their use altogether or else machines that are denominated "trade machines" should be heavily taxed. But that is only an opinion, for I do regard it as the province of the legislative body of the city to deal with this question. Respectfully,

WANT BIG LABOR BUILDING.

UNION MEN WANT TO HAVE LABOR TEMPLE FOR ALL UNIONS.

The question of establishing a headquarters for all the labor unions of Alameda county is again being agitated. It is desired to have a place where all the business agents can have their offices. The teamsters and Brotherhood of Carpenters are at present looking for new quarters. In the not far-distant future it is the hope of the Oakland labor leaders to have erected a large temple where every local union can hold its meetings and every business agent have an office. With the new central labor body uniting together and classifying every labor organization in the county, such a thing as a labor hall is a very possible thing. A local printing firm has offered to erect a building on Harrison street, the lower floor to be used by the company and the upper stories devoted to labor unions. The only objection now offered to the plan is that the proposed site is not as centrally located as is deemed desirable.

TOPOGRAPHICAL UNION.

The topographical union Saturday evening selected O. D. Rogers and P. B. Preble as the local delegates to the State Federation of Labor which meets in Fresno January 4th. The session was one of the best attended of the year, seventy-five members being present.

One candidate was nominated for election and no application filed. At the next meeting officers will be nominated for the ensuing term.

Treasurer McInnis, who has been in office for the past six years, will probably be elected again.

Other candidates have not yet appeared.

The woman's auxiliary will hold a meeting this week or next to arrange for a big social. The affair will probably take place two weeks from tomorrow night, though the exact date has not yet been set.

A large hall will be engaged so the members of other organizations can invite their friends. Mrs. O. E. Hawkes is president and Miss Mary Dickson, secretary of the auxiliary.

BUTCHERS.

The butchers will initiate several candidates for a meeting. The ball committee will report progress. It is the intention of those in charge to make the affair the largest masquerade ball ever held in Alameda county. No expense will be spared toward making the affair a success. It is not primarily to make money that the dance will be given, but to have a good time.

NEWSBOYS.

President Oberlies, of the Newsboys' Union, will call no more meetings of the organization until the charter arrives. The document is now on its way to Oakland. The election is scheduled to take place on December 11, and the installation on December 18. M. L. Oberlies, the present president, has announced that he will be a candidate for re-election. Candidates for the place have not yet appeared.

CLASSIFICATION COMMITTEE.

In Kohler & Chase Hall this evening the classification committee of the Central Labor Council will meet the delegates to the provision trades council.

MILK WAGON DRIVERS.

A special meeting of milk wagon drivers was held last night in Becker's Hall, being a postponement of last Sunday's session. A delegation was present from the district council of teamsters.

SHOEMAKERS.

An active crusade against unfair shoe-repairing establishments was decided on by the Shoemakers' Union at its last meeting. Overcharging for work is to be prohibited, and a demand is being made of the manufacturer to the union man to receive the difference between it and the established price, and the member found guilty will be expelled.

The Rand (South Africa) miners require at the present day between 140,000 and 150,000 laborers and their requirements in three years time should be twice that figure.

The executive committee of the Ohio Valley Trades and Labor Assembly has completed arrangements for a series of mass meetings to be addressed by labor leaders of national importance.

RIGHT TO USE UNDERGROUND WATER LIMITED.

Supreme Court Reaffirms Doctrine of Vested Right in Artesian Well Supply.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 30.—Since the reaffirmation of the decision of Justice Temple in the famous "percolating water" case, brought up on appeal from San Bernardino county, lawyers are discussing the probable effect it will have in determining rights to under-ground or percolating water. As the decision on rehearing is by a unanimous bench, the doctrine that the developer of an artesian or subterranean water supply thereby gains a vested right which cannot be impaired by subsequent developers seems to have become firmly imbedded in the jurisprudence of California.

But the limitations of such vested rights is still open for adjudication or legislative action, although the Supreme Court suggests the desirability of reasonable use, limiting the use of subterranean water to the land from which it is taken. The application of this rule, however, would prevent the diversion of artesian water for the use of cities or to be utilized at distant points for irrigation and other purposes.

The decision therefore has an important and immediate bearing upon the scheme to divert artesian water from the New Cone for the use of the cities and towns of the Alameda shore. Under the rule laid down by the Court no such diversion of artesian water is possible, unless the developer has made to the impairment of artesian supplies already developed. If the use of water be restricted to the land from which it is taken there could be no diversion at all.

The decision applies with peculiar significance to the contention of the farmers of the Santa Clara Valley are having with the Bay Cities Water Company. That corporation is preparing to cut off and divert the underground flow that supplies the artesian wells of the valley. These wells are an important factor in the prosperity of the fruit-growing industry of Santa Clara.

The farmers who view the contemplated diversion with deep alarm, have banded themselves together to resist it.

The facts on which the Supreme Court based its decision are simple. Leah J. Katz had an artesian well on her place in San Bernardino county. Margaret D. Walkershaw, owner of the adjoining property, also sank an artesian well, which stopped the flow of the first well. Mrs. Katz brought an injunction suit to determine the rights of contiguous owners. The plaintiff was not suited and appealed. Justice Temple reversed the lower court and remanded the case for trial, thus depriving the plaintiff had rights which could be impaired by diversion of neighboring property. A rehearing was granted, but the artesian and all interests in the State were in a manner drawn into the contest.

AROUSED DEEP INTEREST.

The case assumed greater interest because the oil men began to ask each other if the man who first tapped a pool of petroleum owned the whole of it. The mining men also began to look on the contention as one that might affect their industry. The case was originally decided a little more than a year ago, the opinion being written by the late Justice Temple a few days before his death. A rehearing was granted, and the result is an affirmation of the original decision. The Court, in its opening sentence, refers to the great importance of the case, not only to the parties to the action but because many persons are "vitally interested in the principle involved—a question that is novel and of the very most importance to the application to most useful purposes of the waters which may be found in the soil."

A large number of briefs were filed on both sides of the case by attorneys representing large owners of water rights, particularly in the southern part of the State, though the disputes involved affect property owners wherever artesian wells are sunk or percolating waters are used or sold.

The main arguments in support of the judgment of the lower court were that each land owner owns absolutely the percolating waters in his land, with the right to extract, sell and dispose of them as he chooses regardless of the result of his neighbor. The decision is to the contrary.

This theory, it is claimed, is part of the common law and as such has been adopted in this State as the law of the land. And hence that it is beyond the power of the Court to abrogate or change it, that the rule has become a rule of property in this State upon the faith of which enormous investments have been made, and that it should not now be departed from even if erroneous.

If this is the question in an open one, the adoption of the doctrine of correlative rights in percolating waters would hinder or prevent all further development or use of underground water supplies or any destruction of property already made thus largely restricting the productive capacity and growth of the State, and that therefore sound public policy and regard for the general welfare of the community require that the doctrine of reasonable use of percolating waters requires an equitable distribution thereof among the different land owners and claimants.

The rule of the lower court would throw upon the developer the duty and burden of regulating the use of such waters and that this would prove a duly impossible performance, and that if this is the case it is not possible to percolating waters it must for the same reason be the law with regard to the abstraction of petroleum from the ground. And so, it would entirely defeat the original development and protection of the State, and for that reason also that it is against public policy and injurious to the general welfare.

The first contention, namely, that the common law governs, is met by the Court with the maxim that where the reasons on which a law is founded fail, the law cannot survive.

COMMON LAW INAPPLICABLE. The Court proceeds to show that a rule of law applied in one of the foreign countries of England, the common law of which it is claimed obtains in this case, may be wholly inapplicable in this country because of different capacity, or because the law being referred to may not be being carried out in that country.

The Court also points out that the common law of England is met by the Court with the maxim that where the reasons on which a law is founded fail, the law cannot survive.

"Whenever it is found that owing to the physical features and character of the soil, the water is not available for use, the climate, soil and productions, the application of a given common law tends constantly to cause injustice and wrong, rather than justice and right, then the common law must be modified, and the administration of justice must be modified to meet the new conditions in which it is found." The Court then says:

TELLS HOW HE BRIBED GARNETT TO STAND TRIAL

Many Officers Are Implicated By a Man Who Turned State's Evidence.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., November 30.—State Senator David E. Burns, charged by Lant K. Salsbury, the former city attorney, in the latter's confession recently, regarding the wholesale bribery in connection with the notorious water deal, with having received $200 for his work, was given an examination here to day. Salsbury appeared for the state and testified that he offered Burns $200 in addition to $100 which Burns told him he had already received.

Burns scorned the offer at first saying that he was no $100 man, and threatened, so Salsbury swore, that he would tack on a referendum clause to the bill, unless he were given $5,000.

Salsbury told him to put the bill and to say nothing about it, and $5,000 until the measure became a law. Inimating that he would be further rewarded, he wanted $10,000 in cash. He said he wanted $10,000 and he would expose the whole thing. I finally had to give it to him.

"The next plans" witness said, "was to get the city to buy the hydraulic water plant. It was practically worthless, far as competition was concerned, but could be made to appear good. In order to get the deal through, it was necessary to have the city charter amended so that its purpose was to arrange with Senator Burns and Messrs. Hayes, Clegg and a Mr. Gray of New York, were to back the scheme and were to put up $60,000 as a start. Willard Kingsley of this city acted for them."

"On this amount, we were to give $10,000 to Editor Conger, $5,000 to Senator Burns, $20,000 was to go to the Legislature for the bill and the balance of $15,000 was to be divided between Mayor Perry, Editor Spread-eur, Ellis and myself. This plan fell down, however, when a referendum clause was attached to the bill and we had to give it up and go on with the like Michigan deal."

C. S. Burch, manager of the Evening Press, denies the charges made by Salsbury.

JOHN MOTT IS APPOINTED.

HE WILL ACT AS CLERK OF JUDGE SAMUEL'S COURT.

The appointment of Assemblyman John M. Mott, as clerk of Police Court, No. 2, by Justice of the Peace George Samuels, was filed with the County Clerk today.

Although entitled to a clerk by law, up to the present time the court has been conducted without one.

Mott is receiving the congratulations of his friends, as the position is for four years and carries a salary of $500 a year. He has been employed as an extra deputy in the office of County Tax Collector Barber.

LABORER HAS A NARROW ESCAPE.

J. McPike, a laborer employed in the erection of the building on the Bunker block so narrowly missed instant death this morning that it caused the wonder of the physicians at the Receiving Hospital where he was taken for treatment.

McPike was picking up a board from the ground when a heavy eight inch plank seventeen feet long and two inches thick fell off the roof of the building three stories up. It came whirling down and struck a brick Mr. Peke on the side of his head, and severed off his ear, and left his skull broken. When brought to the Receiving Hospital he was apparently all right with the exception of having lost a strip of skin about seven inches in length. The cut was made as clean as if it had been done with a knife and had the plank struck his head would have severed it.

GALLED COMPANY BY WRONG NAME.

Arthur R. Logan lost his suit against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company the morning on a technicality and he will have to go through the preparation of a new one before he can hope to recover damages for alleged injuries received while in the employ of the company. He was engaged in carpentering on the ferryboat Piedmont and the scaffolding gave way. His leg was broken and he was thrown into the water, and was brought against the Southern Pacific Railway of San Francisco while its correct name is the Southern Pacific Railway of Kentucky. Judge Greene held that the technical defect in the paper did not warrant the granting of a motion for a non-suit.

THEORY AND PRACTICE.

The identification of the two men who culminated a long campaign of burglary by murdering Police Officer Smith will widely shock persons holding certain nice theories in regard to crime. The career of those two young men will be unexplained to persons who believe in criminal heredity and who generalize that crime is the fruit of environment, poverty and ignorance.

Except for their prodigious exploits, Goldstein and Kline were not men of vicious habits. They were no in war. They were not creatures of unfortunate circumstance. No stress of misfortune drove them to commit crime. They were young, intelligent, of fair education and good address. One of them was a good mechanic. Their ordinary associations were not evil, but were entirely respectable.

These young men deliberately engaged in a criminal industry, which they pursued with methodical prudence. They lodged with respectable people, and conducted themselves outwardly in the most exemplary manner. They educated themselves in the technique of burglary, and supplied themselves with the most approved tools for the practice of the trade; also with appliances for melting down plate and jewelry with a gas jet. Their manner of life was an artful cover for a life of dangerous and desperate crime. They pursued their criminal career for many months without being suspected. Numerous burglaries in San Francisco and Oakland can be traced to them. Each job evidenced the skill of adepts and the planning of strategists. They were men of forethought and resource, as well as of courage and daring.

The qualities these men possessed are precisely the ones that theorists declare thieves to be most lacking in. Their record belies the theory that crime is the result of hereditary or vicious environment. They were criminals by natural selection. They took up robbery as a business proposition without having any excuse for it, save the desire to get easy money.

Being without the pale of what psychologists call the "criminal classes," their temporary success was great, their escape from detection easy. Yet with all their skill and foresight their profession didn't pay. One is dead at the Morgue and the other a fugitive from justice with the gallows awaiting him should he be caught. Once his photograph gets into the Rogues' Gallery he must play hide-and-seek with Justice to the end.

The Stockton Mail says Railroad Commissioner Orrin Henderson is laying his wires for the Gubernatorial nomination. It does not disclose this statement to say that Mr. Henderson is a Republican and the Mail a Democratic paper. But three years must elapse before another Governor is to be elected, and in the meantime Governor Pardee is holding the chair down in a way that is entirely acceptable to the public. Besides Alameda county is not in the fossil class when it comes to doing its duty. Mr. Henderson may not break his leg and still be unable to knock the Gubernatorial permission. And, then, wires laid three years ahead are likely to rust and get out of working order.

DANGEROUS SCOUNDRELS.

The killing of Police Officer Smith Friday evening is another illustration of the fact that nocturnal robbers such as footpads and burglars always have murder in contemplation. They are always prepared to slay in case of arrest or detection.

In this instance Officer Smith was deliberately shot down when he informed the two strangers they were under arrest. The cold-blooded atrocity of the act illustrates the desperate character of the class of criminals to which they belong. Such men are usually intelligent and to some extent educated. They are bold, reckless, desperate villains who carefully plan their crimes, and are at all times fully prepared to commit murder as an incident to their depredations. Cleverly as such malefactors are entirely misplaced for the nocturnal thief is a criminal by the law of natural selection. He seldom reforms till he is too old for further service in his profession, the nature of which renders him peculiarly dangerous to society. He is a menace to homes and their inmates. Justice should accordingly present its sternest side to him.

The Sacramento Bee is mistaken. President Wheeler did not forbid the Thanksgiving ball game on the University grounds because it was an "offense against God," but because it was an affront to his dignity. He forbade the game because his permission had not been given to play it. Our Sacramento contemporaries should remember that there is a distinction to be made between President Wheeler and God.

Senator Carmack who is so anxious to find out why our Government recognized Panama so promptly might extend his inquiry to France, Germany and Italy. They acted almost as promptly as our own country.

IMPROVE WEBSTER STREET.

No doubt the energetic members of the Oakland Merchants Exchange, having once taken up the project, will not cease their endeavors till they have exhausted every recourse in the effort to have Webster street in Alameda improved. Such men as Theodore Gier, J. F. W. Sohst, Wilbur Walker, D. C. Brown and George W. Arper always push schemes for public development with persistent energy in the face of obstacles. Their performances in the past prove what they can accomplish when they try.

In the matter of improving Webster street they have to encounter peculiar difficulties, but the obstacles are nothing like so serious as those they encountered in the matter of the Contra Costa tunnel road, and the tunnel road is an accomplished fact, thanks to the Merchants' Exchange.

The portion of Webster street in need of improvement lies wholly within the corporate limits of Alameda, and hence neither the county nor the municipality of Oakland can aid in the improvement, although the thoroughfare is only a street in name. It is, however, the main highway connecting Oakland with Alameda, traversing the uninhabited marsh that separates the two cities. As the city of Alameda is financially unable to improve the highway, and it is neither practicable nor just to require the abutting property owners to defray the cost of the improvement, some method must be devised by those most directly to be benefited to provide for the expense.

The merchants of Oakland and Alameda are jointly interested in the project. So are all the residents of the West End of Alameda, and to a certain extent are the owners of the property abutting on the street. The project for improving the highway is being immediately urged by the West End Improvement Association. The Oakland Merchants' Exchange has signified to the West End Improvement Association and to the municipal authorities of Alameda a willingness to assist in promoting the enterprise. If necessary a proportion of the expense could be raised in Oakland by subscription, as the proposed improvement will directly benefit Oakland tradesmen.

Between the West End Improvement Association, the Merchants' Exchange, the property owners and merchants and municipal authorities, some feasible plan should be evolved for improving a thoroughfare that is so necessary to the convenience of both Alameda and Oakland. The present condition of Webster street is a disgrace to both cities. It has been steadily getting worse for several years, owing to increased travel, and now at the beginning of winter it is a burlesque of a street.

It is to be hoped that West End Association and the Oakland Merchants' Exchange, working in conjunction will leave no stone unturned and spare no effort to bring about this much-needed improvement.

Clubs appear to have been trumps in the Chicago strike. The police held a full hand and played them to the limit.

Mr. Bryan will now plump himself on having scared Cleveland out of the fight.

The battleship Maine seems to have superseded the Texas as the hoodoo of the navy.

SOME PASSING JESTS.

It has been figured out that in New York City 67 per cent of Catholics attend church while only 32 per cent of the Protestants participate in divine worship. Why is it that one third of the Catholics and two thirds of the Protestants stay away from church on Sundays? In Oakland, which is a church-going community, there is a notable increase in the non-church-going population. For some reason or other church attendance is not keeping pace with the increase of population in this country. In England, France and Germany the same phenomenon is observed.

Unseating Livermore will be a task for the nocturnal thief is a criminal by the law of natural selection. He seems to have been crushed into a shapeless mass by being sat on.

Mr. Cleveland's reputation is such that no one will question the sincerity of his refusal to again be a Presidential candidate. His language admits of no equivocation, and his character forbids the idea of reconsideration. Mr. Cleveland must therefore be counted out of the Presidential contest. This narrows the struggle for the Democratic nomination to Hearst, Gorman and Parker. Both Hearst and Parker are from New York, although Hearst is more Californian than New Yorker. As Gorman is at a disadvantage on account of his sectional attitude, the selection seems to lie mainly between Hearst and Parker.

The secession idea is rather disengaged in other Colombian states by the fact that they have no canal concession to sell. Being an isthmus is all that makes Panama a republic—that and John Hay's fine Italian hand.

HE WAS A GOOD MAN.

It is an axiom of social and political economy that a good citizen is the best product of free institutions. Then Charles W. Ames, who was laid to his rest last Saturday rich in the respect of his fellow-men, was one of California's finest products. A long life of usefulness and honor closed with his passing.

Mr. Ames was a merchant of enterprise and sagacity, a developer of industry and resources, a public-spirited citizen, a good neighbor, a loyal friend and an exemplar of religious duty.

An unpretending man of business, unambitious of political honors, he passed his life in those peaceful and useful pursuits which make for the moral and material upbuilding of a community. His

ARGENTINE PROTESTS.

NEW YORK, November 30.—La Prensa, one of the leading newspapers here, commenting on the news that the government of Argentina, Brazil, and Chile are conferring with the object of harmonizing their attitude regarding the Panama question, says according to a Herald dispatch from Buenos Ayres, Argentina, that the appearance of a foreign protectorate over part of Latin America is a very serious matter.

PENCILLERS HAD AN INNING ON SATURDAY.

Talent Only Succeeds in Picking One Winner out of Six at Emeryville—Cascine Beat Bear-catcher in Great Race.

The racing at the Emeryville track on Saturday afternoon was productive of some high-class sport, which was enjoyed by an immense crowd of racegoers. It was showy during the afternoon but did not interfere with the racing and not enough rain fell to affect the track, which is fast drying out. In fact it is all in good condition except that portion extending about ten feet from the rail, which is still heavy.

The betting at the track continues to be heavy and on Saturday the knight of the chalk had an inning and they recouped liberally for the losses that they have sustained during the first twelve days of the winter meet. The talent only succeeded in picking one winner and that was Dainty in the last race. The other winners carried prices all the way from 2 to 30 to 1.

The feature race of the day was the second, a six furlong dash for the two greatest two-year-olds of the age, Burris & Waterhouse's Cascine and Ferguson's Bear-catcher. The latter was made an odd on favorite at 3 to 5 and carried the bulk of the public's money. J. Martin, who had the mount on the favorite, used poor judgment in picking out the road going and added to a poor start the best that Bear-catcher could do was to finish second to Cascine, who ran a splendid race. Otto Stifel got the show.

The first race of the day was the big surprise, being won by a rank outsider at 30 to 1. The betting public liked Yellowstone for this race and made him a favorite at 3 to 1. Madam Bishop and Handpries were constituted second choices at 4 to 1, but none of the three finished within the money. Mike Murphy, the winner, got away first and led all the way to the wire.

The fifth race furnished another surprise, when old Yellow Tail picked up 100 pounds and galloped home an easy winner over Arabo and Hagedorn in a six and a half furlong sprint. Jockey

King, who rode the winner, used good judgment in avoiding the early pace and won by four lengths from Hagedorn. Following were the results:

FIRST RACE—(Fifteen furlongs) Mike Murphy (Burris), 30 to 1.....1

Stifel (C. Jackson), 12 to 1.....2

NEXT FIGHT NEXT LAST GAME OF THE YEAR.

JOHNSON AND FERGUSON WILL BATTLE AT COLMA CLUB.

The next professional glove contest to take place about the bay is that of Jack Johnson, the colored heavy weight champion of the world, and Sandy Ferguson, the Chelsea giant, which will take place before the Colma Athletic Club on Friday evening, December 4. The match is attracting considerable interest as there are many who wish to see how the big Easterer who shows up against the clever Johnson.

Johnson has fought a number of battles and those parts and everyone familiar with pugilism is cognizant of his capabilities. There are not a few who think so well of his fighting abilities as to believe that he can whip Champion Jeffries. There is no getting around it, he is very clever and can hit like a mule kicking. Ferguson will have to be a very good man to whip him.

Ferguson is a stranger to the coast but he comes well recommended as a hard fighter. He is comparatively new at the business and has much to learn. He is said to be an apt pupil and is rapidly assimilating the tricks of the game. The record of as man who can stand a great deal of punishment and make it do him little is of the same nature on his own account.

He is training at Larkspur and for a few days had one Jim Casey, late of Fitzsimmons' camp, with him as sparring partner. Things progressed very nicely until Ferguson took it into his mind to practice a few of his wallops on the Irishman. The latter stopped a few of them with his jaw and reengaged. He thought Ferguson had too strong a punch for his liking and did not want to receive any more of them.

Reports from Larkspur indicate that Ferguson is in excellent condition for the contest and will give a good account of himself. Johnson has not been overlooking anything in the training line and will be there when the gong sounds in his usual good shape.

CATARRH A COMMON COMPLAINT.

Catarrh begins with a stubborn cold in the head, inflammation or soreness of the membrane or lining of the nose, discharge of mucus matter, headaches, neuralgia and difficult breathing, and even in this early stage is almost intolerable. But when the filthy secretions begin to drop back into the throat and stomach, and the blood becomes polluted and the system contaminated by the catarrhal poison, then the sufferer begins to realize what a disgusting and sickening disease Catarrh is.

Miss MARY L. STOEMI, Northwest Cor. 7th and Felix Sts., St. Joseph, Mo.

It affects the kidneys and stomach as well as other parts of the body. It is a constitutional disease and as inhaling mixtures, salves, ointments, etc., are never more than palliative or helpful, even in the beginning of Catarrh, what can you expect from such treatment when it becomes chronic and the whole system affected? Only such a remedy as S. S. S. can reach this obstinate, deep-seated disease and purge the blood of the catarrhal poison. S. S. S. purifies and builds up the diseased blood, and the inflamed membranes are healed and the excessive secretion of mucus ceases when new, rich blood is coming to the diseased parts, and a permanent cure is the result.

S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and a reliable remedy for Catarrh in all stages. Write if in need of medical advice; this will cost you nothing.

WOODS TO FIGHT SPORTS PLEASED REILLY

BISHOP HAS MATCHED THEM FOR SEQUOIA CLUB ON DECEMBER 15.

THEY ARE ANXIOUS TO SEE OTTS AND IRWIN FIGHT AGAIN.

Now that Billy Bishop has become manager of the Sequoia Club he is going to bring before the public Billy Woods, the middleweight boxer. On December 15 the latter will meet Tommy Reilly under the auspices of the club at the old Delta opera house, the organization's headquarters. The new manager believes that he can get $1000 from the promoters of the fight as the seating capacity of the house will be arranged to accommodate 1500 people.

"I can't get local men who will do up the Sequoia Club has given me permission to bring Woods and he will prove attractions, and I will spare no expense in getting good men," said Bishop. "I will match Woods with Riley for the first show, providing the forfeits are paid in full, and if I can't get a good substitute, George Cole is anxious to come to the coast to meet Billy, and I may send for him if I don't hear from Riley. I will offer Riley a $1000 to run his match with Tommy Ryan. I will be pleased to offer him a match with Woods at the Sequoia Club, and will offer him a good-sixth guarantee. I will bring Billy Woods to the O'Brien's, and believe he has an excellent chance of winning, as he is about the same weight, and the match would draw well, for there are any number of people who bet on the underdog, especially of the middleweights since he fought that Joe Walcott."

They were the principal in the main event of the Reliance Club's show last Friday, the first under the new city ordinance and their contest was scheduled to go fifteen rounds but it only lasted ten. It was fast and furious while it lasted and so even that it was an open question as to how it was going to end, when Irwin's seconds discovered that Riley had a broken jaw and had been concealing the fact from them they took the responsibility of stopping the fight and the decision was perforce given to Riley.

They did not prove that Riley was the best man by a mile and there are many who believe he had the best chance for Irwin, as he was the best of the last two of the ten rounds.

Both proved themselves to be game fighters and evenly matched so the contest a week from to-morrow evening should be a rattling good one.

Irwin has been more than anxious to get another match with Otts and believes that he can prove himself the best fighter. Otts is equally as confident. At first the club desired to match Irwin with Jack Correll and while the former was willing to meet the conqueror of Herrera, he expressed a preference for Otts as his opponent and at the latter was willing that the match was made.

Matchmaker Mahony is now at work on the preliminaries and expects to have two rattling good contests to precede the main event. Eddie Saitch, the well known referee will pass on the contests.

DR. BUCKLAND IS DEAD.

FORMER COUNCILMAN PASSES AWAY AT A SANITARIUM.

Dr. Wallace O. Buckland, for thirty years a practicing physician in Oakland, former Councilman and once candidate for Mayor of Oakland, died yesterday at the East Bay Sanitarium from pneumonia following an operation. The operation was performed a week ago and the patient seemed to be recovering when he was seized with a relapse and after he was sent to a hospital and after a struggle succumbed to death.

Dr. Buckland was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, sixty-five years ago. His parents educated him for the Episcopal ministry and after his ordination he was rector of various churches but he turned to medicine. Dr. Buckland took up his study and secured his degree.

At an early age Dr. Buckland came to America and settled in Chicago. The fire at Chicago stripped him of all his possessions, so that he was compelled to start anew. Subsequently he went to Salt Lake City, Utah, where he was successful in the practice of medicine and became the physician for Brigham Young, the Mormon leader.

Dr. Buckland came to Oakland where he has lived continuously with the exception of occasions when he visited his native home. He was a leader among the local physicians and succeeded in building up a lucrative practice.

Of late years he has not been so active as formerly. He always took a great interest in politics and was a member of the Greenback Republican member of the Oakland Council. At another time he was a candidate for Mayor on the Prohibition ticket, but, of course, was not elected.

Buckland, after becoming a physician, changed his belief from Episcopalianism to Presbyterianism, and was always active in Presbyterian church matters.

The only relatives of Dr. Buckland are his widow, Mrs. Katherine Buckland, and a sister, Mrs. R. A. Harris of Edinburgh.

The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon. A short service will be held at the late residence, 1370 Franklin street, and a longer one at the First Presbyterian Church.

DR. JORDAN AT THE Y. M. C. A. HALL.

President David Starr Jordan of Stanford University addressed the men's meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association yesterday afternoon on the subject, "Whose Service is Perfect Freedom." He said in part: "Service is that which gives pleasure, help or profit to others. It may be voluntary effort, that having the element of will and involving self-respect, or it may be slavery—work done without consent in degradation of spirit. The service of God is found not in asceticism, not in sour faces and dismal forebodings, not in destruction of the flesh, not in intercession in Lenten haircloth, not in the singing of psalms or the saying of long prayers, and not in ceremonies of observances. It is simply in lending a hand and in doing the best that we know, not tomorrow, or in the next world, but here and now."

FUNERAL OF THE LATE C. W. ARMES.

The funeral services of C. W. Armes Sr. who died Wednesday at his late residence, 1201 West street, were held at the First Presbyterian Church at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The deceased was the oldest elder of the church and the older elders were his pallbearers. Their names in order of service are: George D. Gray, Alexander Martin, M. W. Upton, W. F. Curtis, Professor William Raymond and W. L. Jones. The funeral service was performed by Dr. Baker, the pastor, and the music was furnished by the church quartet—Clement Rowland, Mrs. Dexter, Mr. Owen and Miss de Fremery. Interment was made in Mountain View Cemetery.
